

Nicole Simmons

Infection Control Nurse

Chicago, IL
nicolesimmons@example.com
(555) 012-3456

Infection control nurse specializing in disease prevention and hospital safety

Experienced infection control nurse with eight years of expertise in developing and implementing infection prevention programs. Skilled in outbreak investigations, staff training, and compliance monitoring.

Key Skills

- Infection prevention and control (IPC)
- Outbreak investigation and management
- Hand hygiene and PPE compliance training
- Data analysis and reporting
- Regulatory compliance (CDC, OSHA, Joint Commission)

Professional Experience

Infection Control Nurse

Chicago Regional Medical Center | Chicago, IL | August 2017 - Present

- Led infection control initiatives that reduced hospital-acquired infections by 40%
- Develop staff training programs on hand hygiene and PPE compliance
- Conduct epidemiological investigations during outbreaks, implementing containment measures

Registered Nurse – Infection Prevention

Illinois Health System | Chicago, IL | June 2015 - July 2017

- Audited hospital infection control protocols, ensuring compliance with CDC guidelines
- Tracked infection trends and created reports for hospital leadership
- Assisted in revising hospital policies to improve patient safety

Education

Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN)

Loyola University Chicago | May 2015

Certifications

- Registered Nurse (RN), Illinois Board of Nursing
- Certification in Infection Prevention and Control (CIC)