

SKYLER LEWIS

Museum Architect

Washington, D.C. | 000-000-0000 | email@example.com

PROFILE

Architect with a specialization in cultural and exhibition space design

Museum Architect with 14 years of experience designing exhibit halls, archival facilities, and gallery spaces. Deep understanding of lighting, environmental controls, and public circulation. Passionate about preserving artistic integrity through architecture.

KEY SKILLS

- Archive climate control
- Exhibition layout
- Gallery lighting
- Historic integration
- Interpretive planning
- Public access design
- Revit
- Security coordination

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Exhibition Architect

Cultural Form Architects, Washington, D.C. | January 2016 - Present

- Designed over 100,000 square feet of new museum space, including permanent and rotating exhibit areas
- Collaborated with curators and conservators to ensure preservation standards
- Integrated digital wayfinding and touch-free systems post-COVID

Architect

Landmark Design Group, Washington, D.C. | July 2010 - December 2015

- Renovated historic interiors into modern exhibition spaces
- Developed environmental control strategies for light-sensitive artwork
- Supported client presentations with 3D walkthroughs and renderings

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch)

Catholic University of America | 2009